

DIRECTOR'S FORTNIGHT CLOSING NIGHT

DRAMEDY

LILY SOMETIMES

Directed by Fabienne Berthaud / Cast: Diane Kruger & Ludivine Sagnier / Produced by LE BUREAU

Lily is like no other girl. Uninhibited and free-spirited, she lives in the moment and allows no one to tell her what to do. She has her own world in which she lives in harmony with Nature. Her elder sister, Clara, has left home a long time ago to get married and live her life in a big city. When their mother dies, Clara has to come back home to manage the inheritance and her little sister Lily.

Bucolic sceneries, liberating fantasies and sisterly love will help these very different characters find their path to happiness...

Canada, near the US border. Five friends are driving back home. They are stopped by the border police, two suspicious officers. The questioning slowly hardens. Especially towards Jalil. But the group stays calm. After all, they've done nothing wrong... Except that broken light... Except that pot in the car... The police check turns nasty. The group is cuffed. Leslie protests; as an answer, she gets an "intimate" body search in front of her friends. The officers then suspect their dog is a mule...and they rip it open with a knife! The situation spirals out of control. Someone is shot. The group is arrested and sent to a special jail - cages are waiting for them. Along with questions. They'll need to find answers. Or a way out.
