THE SOLITUDE OF PRIME NUMBERS

a film by Saverio Costanzo

(Private, In Memory of Myself)

Cast: Luca Marinelli, Alba Rohwacher, Isabella Rossellini

Producers: Offside, Les Films Des Tournelles

Genre: Drama Country: Italy

Adapted from Paolo Giordano's hypnotic bestselling first novel – a literary sensation which sold more than 3 million copies in 34 countries, was translated into more than 20 languages and won Italy's most prestigious literary prize, the Premio Strega.

A prime number is inherently a solitary thing: it can only be divided by itself, or by one; it never truly fits with another.

Alice and Mattia also move on their own axes, alone with their personal tragedies. As a child Alice's overbearing father drove her first to a terrible skiing accident, and then to anorexia. When she meets Mattia she recognises a kindred spirit, and Mattia reveals to Alice his terrible secret: that as a boy he abandoned his mentally-disabled twin sister in a park to go to a party, and when he returned, she was nowhere to be found. These two irreversible episodes mark Alice and Mattia's lives for ever, and as they grow into adulthood their destinies seem irrevocably intertwined...

Nemo is un-ambitious, unemployed and unmarried. When a friend gives him two tickets to the opera, suddenly his life has meaning: to find a date. Single women are never in short supply in New York City; the week before the performance is jammed full of dates and encounters with a diverse variety of beauties. As Nemo learns about the opera he is going to see, it grows more relevant to him by the day, as there is little to distinguish himself from the character of Don Giovanni. After dragging his aching heart through a string of misadventures on the city streets, Nemo realizes, and just in time, that the perfect date had been right there within his reach all along.
